BEYOND THE RAILS
By K.A. Holt

Twelve-year-old Eliseo dreams of leaving his home in Guatemala, of escaping the dangers of life there. Eliseo has his sights set on Texas, a 1,450-mile journey, for he has heard rumors that all children who cross the U.S. border are immediately granted U.S. citizenship, and he dreams of reaching his older sister, who left for the United States three years earlier. Eliseo and his seven-year-old neighbor, Nina, first must survive a dangerous train ride atop “La Bestia” (The Beast) and navigate new friendships with other kids attempting the journey. Will Eliseo and Nina ever find Eliseo’s sister, and the dream of a better life in America they’ve clung to for so long? K.A. Holt’s wonderfully accessible verse is at its most poignant in this middle grade novel that sheds light on one of the most important and hotly debated issues of the moment.

GENA/FINN
By Hannah Moskowitz and Kat Helgeson

Gena and Finn would have never met but for their mutual love for the hit TV show Up Below. Regardless of their differences—Gena is a recent high school graduate whose social interactions largely take place online, while Finn is in her early twenties, encountering the difficulties of job hunting in a poor economy and contemplating marriage with her longtime boyfriend—the two girls realize that the bond between them transcends fanfiction. When disaster strikes and Gena’s world turns upside down, only Finn can save her, and that, too, comes with a price. Told through emails, text messages, journal entries, and blog posts, Gena/Finn is a story of friendship and love found through social media in the digital age.
